

UNDER WAY AT LAST

Burns Case Now Proceeding With Rapidity.

FOURTEEN WITNESSES SWORN

Attorneys Have Quilt the Fight on Technicalities—Few New Facts Are Developed.

A jury was finally struck yesterday at 11 o'clock in Judge Adair's court for the trial of James Burns. The attorneys for the defense could not let the case go to trial, however, without more objections. It was urged by them that the prosecutor had not filed a demurrer to their motion to dismiss on the ground of former jeopardy, and they claimed that he should have done so, and that his failure to do so was a bar to further proceedings. As Judge Adair had ruled that there had been no jeopardy, he also ruled that a demurrer to the motion was not a bar to the trial. During the afternoon fourteen witnesses were sworn, covering about the same ground as was covered the first day of the trial. Several witnesses swore they had seen Burns in company with two others near North Park the day preceding the burglary. The conductor on the North Park railroad swore that he saw them, a stand-by on the park sold them some cigars and he noticed them particularly because they paid in 2-cent pieces. Mr. Thiel, who runs a hotel near Plumb's mill, sold them their dinner and received his pay in 2-cent pieces. Mrs. Helms, in whose house the men boarded, swore to their being out nights and identified Burns as the one who gave her his name as James Clark when they rented the room.

BUTTON FASTENER CASE.

Judges Brown and Severens Sustain the Eggleston Patent.

A decision from Judge Brown, Judge Severens concurring, was filed yesterday with the clerk of the United States court here, in the infringement of the Button Fastener Patent. The decision sustains the patent without compensation. An accounting was ordered to determine the amount of damages to which the complainants are entitled. This case has been in the court for a year and has been watched with interest by those concerned, as the validity of the Eggleston patent was in question. The Eggleston company claimed the device in question was the Metcalf patent and patented by the Eggleston fastener. This company used to handle or manufacture the Eggleston patent some time ago, and this decision will not interfere in any way with the present machine manufactured by the Eggleston company.

Fighters in Court.

George Carmody, who was arrested for raising a disturbance in Spencer's saloon Thursday evening, was arraigned in police court yesterday and his trial was set for today. John Tierney, the bartender arrested at the same time with Carmody, was arraigned with him and will have a hearing before Judge J. S. Carmody is the man from California who recently had a trial in justice court for assault and battery on a man named Kennedy.

Mailed an Indecent Card.

In the United States court yesterday Charles Sperry of Pentwater pleaded guilty on an indictment for mailing an indecent postal card, and Judge Severens fined him $40. Sperry is a young man, and while in an intoxicated condition wrote a card to one of his chums making some indecent references in regard to attending a dance.

Minor Court Notes.

James W. Converse was granted a decree of foreclosure by Judge Adair against R. W. Ferguson on a claim against lots 2 and 3 of block 10, of Converse's addition. He was granted a decree in January, but through a mistake an amended decree was necessary. The latter was filed yesterday.

Trinette Karman was granted a divorce from William Karman by Judge Adair. She was given the custody of their children and was given a deed of certain property on Plainfield avenue.

The case of Pete Pipe vs. the city was partly heard in the superior court yesterday. His plea for an alleged encroachment on his land in constructing the Madison street sewer.

The afternoon was consumed in police court yesterday on the examination of Wellington McPherson, charged with forgery. Thus far the case is not strongly against the prisoner.

Six men, owners of dogs, were in police court yesterday, charged with having paid no license. They all pleaded guilty, took out licenses and paid $1.50 each.

John J. J. filed a bill in the circuit court yesterday asking for a divorce from Katherine J. on the ground of desertion.

In the case of Church vs. Vanhook, a verdict of $110 for plaintiff was rendered in Judge Adair's court yesterday.

John Hall paid $9.35 for a breach of the peace in police court yesterday.

BLESSED INVENTOR OF SLEEP.

The Human Machine Will Not Repair Itself Without Assistance.

"Now blessings light on him that first invented sleep," says Dr. Seldon H. Talbot of the state hospital, New York. "The habit of too late to bed and too early rising is one of the causes of nervous weakness," says Dr. Seldon H. Talbot of the state hospital, New York. "Overwork and want of recreation is another."

Men and women who have been unable to rest completely during the summer now need more sleep than others; they often get less. And the result is seen in nervous exhaustion, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia, for which Pain's celery compound is a never-failing cure. Says William Randall of Mansfield, Massachusetts: "I have been subject to rheumatism in the feet for the last six or seven years and during that time I have tried scores of medicines, but could not get much relief. I at last gave Pain's celery compound a trial and after using two bottles I certainly felt better. Now that I have taken nine bottles of the Compound in all, I must say that I feel quite well and free from the dreadful disease. To any of my friends who are suffering I can give great pleasure in recommending Pain's celery compound, believing, as I do, that it is a great blood purifier."
